THE PRESENTER

Michael Breed, PGA, has been the Head Professional at Sunningdale Country Club in Scarsdale, NY, since 2001. He was honored as the Metropolitan PGA Teacher of the Year in 2000 and 2009 and is the 2006 and 2007 Horton Smith Award Winner. For over 25 years, the great game of golf has played a starring role in his personal and professional life.

Breed is now the host the Golf Channel's live show "The Golf Fix" on Mondays at 7 PM where he dishes out fast-paced, in-your-face instruction answering the toughest golf questions. He reviews the best and worst shots from the weekend's tournament, giving tips on how to play the shots the next time you hit the links. During the show, he gives straight answers to viewer emails and expertly coaches live callers. Breed has been affiliated with The Golf Channel since 1999. He has appeared numerous times on Golf Academy Live as both a guest Instructor as well as a host. He has appeared on golf talk live, viewers' forum, and Golf Central. He has done numerous instructional tips for CBS Sports, Turner Sports, and Cablevision, and has also worked as an on course commentator for the Golf Channel's coverage of the Nationwide Tour and the PGA Tour.
