

Teacher of the Year: George Connor, Connor Golf

The Teacher of the Year award bestows special recognition on the PGA golf professional that has performed outstanding service as a golf instructor. A PGA Member since 1997, George has earned a PGA

Specialty Certification in Teaching and currently teaches at Farmington Woods in the summer and Mike's Golf Outlet and Oakwood Virtual Golf in the winter. He also serves as an Assistant Golf Coach of the University of Hartford Women's Golf Team, has assisted 14 students to play Division I, II or NAIA collegiate golf and has professional students currently on the PGA LatinoAmerica, Asian Developmental, Middle East North Africa, and European Challenge Tours. George is the author of "Drill Your Way to Great Putting" and has been recognized by Golf Digest as one of the Best Instructors in Connecticut. He is the Golf Channel Academy Lead Instructor, appearing on over 20 Golf Tips in addition to four appearances on Golf Channel's Morning Drive and six on the Back Nine Network. George has also served on the Professional Development, Growth of the Game, and Member Services Committees of the section. He has previously been recognized as the 1999 Assistant Golf Professional of the Year, 2004 Presidents Award recipient, and Teacher of the Year in 2000 and 2011.